

WHEN IN ROME: A TREASURE HUNT FOR GRADES 1–4

Instructions for the Teacher

Project images 2, 12, 18, 21, 23, 24, 25, 41, 43, 45 in the classroom (they are available in digital format on the CD-ROM). After you have observed and discussed the images, make copies of the treasure hunt game opposite and distribute them to the students. Ask them to match the picture with the corresponding clue below.

Answer Key

- | | | | |
|----|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9 | My image would be beneath your feet. I wear a wreath of flowers and am surrounded by many cubes of stone in geometric shapes. (image 43) | 3 | Every home needs a small figure of me. Eat, drink, and dance, and I will protect you. (image 18) |
| 6 | Remember my name and the age at which I died. My curly hair is my best feature. (image 24) | 5 | This stone box holds my ashes. I want to be remembered for the successes in my life. (image 23) |
| 4 | Lion power draws my large chariot. I wear a long dress and hold a musical instrument. (image 21) | 8 | I was once part of a Roman room. My garland is painted rather than real. (image 41) |
| 10 | I am a shiny pair for fancy dining! One of my young friends is riding a wild animal. (image 45) | 1 | I look rather grumpy and old and am going bald. I am carved of stone. (image 2) |
| 7 | Surrounded by my followers and the four seasons, I ride my panther around this large marble container. (image 25) | 2 | I'm larger than life to show my power, although I've lost everything except my head! (image 12) |

WHEN IN ROME: A TREASURE HUNT

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

Look at the pictures above and match their numbers with the clues below

My image would be beneath your feet. I wear a wreath of flowers and am surrounded by many cubes of stone in geometric shapes.

Every home needs a small figure of me. Eat, drink, and dance, and I will protect you.

Remember my name and the age at which I died. My curly hair is my best feature.

This stone box holds my ashes. I want to be remembered for the successes in my life.

Lion power draws my large chariot. I wear a long dress and hold a musical instrument.

I was once part of a Roman room. My garland is painted rather than real.

I am a shiny pair for fancy dining! One of my young friends is riding a wild animal.

I look rather grumpy and old and am going bald. I am carved of stone.

Surrounded by my followers and the four seasons, I ride my panther around this large marble container.

I'm larger than life to show my power, although I've lost everything except my head!